I did a lot of test for it, i could get it to work perfectly on chrome and FF, but with IE11 it does something and i'm not familiar with. Does anyone has a clue? The sequence from the droped file should be preserved. A: It seems that you are trying to open a.rpx file that was not created with the famous Microsoft Export function. To be more precise, you need to open a.rpx file with MS RenderMan Designer, which is Windows only and cannot be used in a Mac environment. For more information, see here Auditory Evoked Brain Stem Response in the Chinchilla Hair Cells, OHCs and Spiral Ganglion Neurons. The auditory brain stem response (ABR) has been used to study the neurophysiology and ototoxicity in the cochlea. This response was initially discovered in patients with lesions of the ear and was hypothesized to reflect an auditory center in the brain stem.
